For the prevention and cure
BILIOUS AND MALIGNANT FEVERS
is recommended
HAHN's ANTI-BILIOUS PILLS

THIS Medicine has been attended with a degree of success highly grateful to the inventor's feelings in several parts of the West Indies and in the Southern and Middle States, &c.

The testimony of a number of person can be adduced, who have reason to believe that a timely use of this salutary remedy has, under Providence, preserved their lives when in the most alarming circumstances.

Facts of this conclusive nature speak more in favour of a medicine than columns of pompous eulogy founded on mere assertion.

It is not indeed presumptuously proposed as an infallible cure, but the inventor has every possible reason that can result from extensive experience for believing that a dose of these Pills taken once in every two weeks during the prevalence of our bilious fevers, will prove an infallible preventive; and further, that in the earlier stages of those diseases their use will very generally succeed in restoring health, and frequently in cases esteemed desperate and beyond the power of common remedies.

The operation of these pills is perfectly mild, so as to be used with safety by persons in every situation and of every age.

They are excellently adapted to carry off superfluous bile and prevent its morbid secretions—to restore and amend the appetite—to produce a free perspiration and thereby prevent colds which are often of fatal consequences. A dose never fails to remove a cold if taken on its first appearance: they are celebrated for removing habitual costiveness—sickness at the stomach and severe head-ache—and ought to be taken by all persons on a change of climate.

They have been found remarkably efficatious in preventing and curing disorders attendant on long voyages, and should be procured and carefully preserved for use by every seaman.

Hahn's true & genuine German Corn Plaister.

An infallible remedy for corns, speedily removing them root and branch, without giving any pain.

The Genuine Persian Lotion,

So celebrated among the fashionable throughout Europe, is an invaluable cosmetic, perfectly innocent and safe, free from corrosive and repellent minerals, the basis of other lotions, and of unparalleled efficacy in removing blemishes of the face and skin, freckles, pimples, inflamatory redness, scurfs, tetters, ringworms, sunburns, prickly heat, &c.

BALLAD.

Oh! lady buy these budding flow'rs,
For I am sad and wet and weary;
I gather'd them e'e break of day,
When all was lonely, still and dreary;
And long I've sought to sell them here,
To purchase clothes, and food, and dwelling,
For Valor's wretched orphan girls—
Poor me and my young sister Ellen.

Ah! those who tread life's thornless way,
In Fortune's golden sunshine basking,
May deem my wants require no aid,
Because my lips are mute, unasking:
They have no heart for woes like mine,
Each word, each look is cold, repelling;
Yet once a crowd of flatt'rers fawn'd,
And fortune smil'd on me and Ellen.

Oh! buy my flowers, they're fair and fresh
As mine and morning's tears could keep them;
To-morrow's sun shall see them dead,
And I shall scarcely live to weep them!
Yet this sweet bud, if nurs'd with care,
Soon into fulness would be swelling,
And nurtur'd by some gen'rous hand,
So might my little sister Ellen.

She's sleeping in the hollow tree,
Her only home—its leaves her bedding;
And I've no food to carry there,
To soothe the tears she will be shedding:
Oh that those mourner's tears which fall,
That bell which heavily is knelling—
And that deep grave, were meant for me
And my poor little sister Ellen!

When we in silence are laid down,
In life's last fearless, blessed keeping,
No tears will fall upon our grave,
Save those of pitying heaven's own weeping.
Unknown we've liv'd, unknown must die,
No tongue the mourful tale be telling,
Of two young broken-hearted girls—
Poor Mary and her sister Ellen!

No one has bought of me to-day,
And night is now the town o'ershading,
And I, like these poor drooping flowers,
Unnoticed and unwept am fading;
My soul is struggling to be free,
It loathes its wretched earthly dwelling!
My limbs refuse to bear their load—
Oh God protect lone orphan Ellen!

The reasons of an European writer for the extraordinary population of China.

"The superstition of the people which makes them deem it unhappy to die without posterity, produces early and universal marriage."

"For many ages the country has been free from the ravages of war."

"The people of the East have been remarkable for eating little, often sustaining nature with the merest pittance of rice."

"The land being all of it the Emperor's, is not divided into large states among the great Lords, but into small portions among the cultivators."

"Almost every thing in China being done by human labour, and there being scarcely any beasts of burthen, and but few reared for the table, a greater proportion (the whole with very little deduction) of the produce of the soil, goes immediately, in China, to the maintenance of the human beings, than in another country."

But the Chinese, notwithstanding for so many ages they have kept good so great a population, are far from happy. According to the concurrent testimonies of recent travellers, as well French as English, the appearance of the poor people they saw in their journeys, by different routes to Pekin, was wretchedly squalid.—Only half a century ago, China was represented as the Eden of the world—the seat of primeval simplicity, of pure morals, of most exemplary order, of arts and science, and, in short, of human felicity. But since the interior of that vast country has been in some measure exploded by intelligent and honest travellers, the illusion is vanished.

ASTRONOMY.

"We must consider," says the Edinburgh Review, "the curious question that was agitated between Newton and Leibnitz, concerning the performance of our system as completely resolved: the former being aware of the disturbance or irregularity produced on one planet by the action of another, suspected that such irregularities might increase in the lapse of time, so as to bring about the ruin of the system, unless the power of the creator were interposed to restore that order which it had originally established. Against this doctrine, so contrary to the principles of his philosophy, and leading to conclusions which he deemed so inconsistent with the wisdom and foresight of the Supreme Being, Leibnitz remonstrated with great warmth. He argued that it was to entertain very narrow and inadequate ideas of Divine perfection to suppose that the Author of nature could be reduced to the necessity of amending what he had done; that he had made a world, which like a clock or watch, required to be wound up and refitted at certain intervals; or that he had created a system which carried in itself the principles of its own destruction." "Into this controversy," continues the Review, "it is not necessary for us to enter, as geometry has now decided the question, and has no longer left it subject for metaphysical dispute. The calculations of La Grange and La Place have shewn that Newton and Leibnitz, were in some respects both in the right, in other respects both in the wrong. They have proved, that the irregularities which the former suspected are real, but so curiously adjusting the actual state of our system, that they are all periodical, and that in the midst of them, the period of every planet's revolution, and its mean distance from the sun, are forever unassailable by any of the causes of change. By the performance of these two elements, as by an immoveable bulwark, order and regularity are preserved in our system; confusion and disorder eternally excluded. There is no danger, therefore, of that accumulation of irregularities which Newton suspected; and such is the constitution of the world, that a preternatural interposition may be necessary to destroy, but cannot be necessary to preserve it."

This view of the universe naturally brings to mind the pious and sublime exclamation of one of the inspired writers: O Lord, how manifold are thy works! in wisdom hast thou made them all. [ibid.

SNIGULAR CUSTOMS.

On the quay Nuenguen, in the United provinces, two Ravens are kept at the public expense; they live in a roomy apartment, with a large wooden cage before it, which serves them for a balcony. These birds are feasted every day, with the choicest fowls, with as much exactness as if they were for a gentleman's table.—The privileges of the city were granted originally upon the observance of this strange custom, which is continued to this day. Many other charters are held upon terms as extraordinary. That of the city of Chester is held by the brutal entertainment of a bull bait—and the descendants of Penn were obliged to send a bear skin every Year to the British Monarch before Pennsylvania became independent, as an acknowledgement that the province was granted to their family by the crown of England. It was in ancient times the custom to present to malefactors, on their way to execution, a great bowl of ale as their last refreshment.—This custom last prevailed at York, which gave rise to the saying, that the saddler of Bawtly was hanged for leaving his ale. Had he stopped, as usual, which he declined, his reprieve, which was actually on the road, would have arrived time enough to have saved him.

[N. Whig.

A Dog turned Highway Robber.

Mrs. Knight and another lady gave information of being robbed by a dog in the following singular manner:—She stated that she and her sister were returning about 6 o'clock the preceding evening from St. Pancras' Church towards the Battle Bridge; a shaggy dog, resembling a drover's dog, unaccompanied by any person, jumped suddenly up from the road side, and laying hold of the reticule she had in her hand, forcibly snatched it from her, and crossing the road, made his escape; her reticule contained a pound note, a sovereign, 18s in silver, a silver thimble, a pair of silver spectacles, and several other articles.—The constable stated that a dog answering the same description, attacked a poor woman on Saturday evening, near the Veterinary college, and robbed her of a bundle containing two shirts, some handkerchiefs and other things, with which he ran away and that the poor woman was so frightened it had nearly cost her her life. There were several other charges made against the same dog, which is supposed to have been trained up to the business, and that his master must be at some place not far distant.

ALEXANDRIA:
SATURDAY, DECEMBER 13, 1817.

FROM OUR CORRESPONDENT AT WASHINGTON.

Friday, December 12, 1817.

A resolution passed the House of Representatives yesterday, directing the Committee on Roads and Canals to enquire into the expediency of making a canal to connect Lake Michigan with the river Mississippi, and another to connect Tennessee river with the Tombigbee.—After which, Mr. Mercer proposed the following resolution:

"Resolved, That the President of the United States be requested to lay before the House of Represeatatives a return of the present strength of the army of the United States, with the distribution thereof among the several military posts which it is designed to protect, together with any information which he may be able to afford respecting the competency of such force to preserve and defend the fortifications among which it is distributed, and to aid in constructing and to defend such other military works, if any, as it may be in the contemplation of government to erect for the security of the United States and of the territories thereof."

This resolution was agreed to, and Mr. Mercer intimated his intention to move on a future day for the reduction of the army.

ABOLITION OF THE INTERNAL TAXES.

The bill abolishing the internal duties was read a third time, and, on the Speaker's putting the question that it do pass, Mr Hopkinson rose, and said, that he knew it was hopeless to oppose a measure at once popular in itself and recommended by the President; he, therefore, did not mean to attempt any opposition, but merely to deliver his opinions on the subject with sincerity, and to say, that impressed with those opinions, he must vote against the repeal of that whole system of taxation. At a time when we were mingling pretty keenly in the affairs of the world, to throw out of our hands the only revenue that we could at all times securely rely upon, was, as he thought, extremely improvident. Of this the house had had calamitous experience in the commencement of the last war. Should a similar exigency occur again, though the people might be willing to bear the burthen of taxes, it would require much time again to organize a system of taxation, and we should again find ourselves in danger and distress, and be driven to the necessity of dishonorable loans. We talked of peace as a reason for repealing our taxes, and yet we were keeping up an army and increasing our navy, because a war may come—and why, on the same ground of reasoning, ought not these taxes to be kept up too—and if there was too much money in the treasury, might it not be applied to public improvements, and to reduce the taxes on things that had become to the poor, the necessaries of life. Mr. Baldwin took the same ground with Mr. Hopkinson, and observed, how odd it must appear that 3 years ago our government was soliciting loans at ten per cent, and were now legislating on the supposition of a surplus in the treasury; but he very much doubted whether there was any real surplus to justify this wilful defalcation.

In a short speech of this kind it is impossible for us to follow Mr. Hopkinson and Mr. Baldwin, on the one hand, in their many and vigorous points of objection to the repeal, or the advocates of the repeal, on the other, through the able and acute remarks and neat eloquence of Mr. Sergeant, Mr. Holmes and Mr. Barbour—nothing short of the whole could be called a satisfactory report of the talents displayed on this occasion. The question was at length taken by ayes and noes, when there were

THEATRICAL.

The citizens of Alexandria had an opportunity, on Thursday evening last, of forming an opinion of the merit of the Theatrical Company, which now solicits their patronage. Although its whole strength was not then displayed, we witnessed enough to draw forth our warmest encomiums. To say that the company is respectable, in the general acceptation of the term, would be but a backnied method of expressing our approbation; we will even venture to say that it is superior to what the warmest friends of the drama could have wished for; and when compared with any other company which has heretofore visited the town, we cannot but acknowledge the liberality of the managers in their exertions to contribute to our instruction and amusement. The selection for the evening was, perhaps, as good a one as could have been prepared, considering the newly organized state of the company. The comedy of the HONEY MOON, is certainly one of the first in the English language; but we are much mistaken if Mr. Caldwell does not consider Aranza one of his least interesting parts. It no doubt requires good playing; but it is by no means adapted to Mr. C.'s voice and figure.—Besides, the character wants that energy of action, that bold and fearless contempt of inferior objects, which are necessary to render it generally acceptable. The common observer cannot discover the beauty of natural restraint: he looks for the natural and spontaneous freedom of action which is congenial with his own disposition, and which, alone, he thinks deserving of approbation in a performer. But to return to Mr. Caldwell. We know that the talents of this gentleman, in his favorite characters, will not suffer in a comparison with any actor on the American stage; and we also believe that it will require but little observation to convince an audience of the correctness of our assertion. Mr. Legg could not have selected a better character than Rolando, for a first appearance, from the whole drama; and we ardently hope that he may continue to claim the applause with which he has been so successfully crowned. We cannot pay a higher compliment to Mr. and Mrs. Entwisle, than by observing, that, as old favorites, they will ever be received with that admiration which a well earned fame alone has the power of enkindling.

Maturin's justly celebrated tragedy of BERTRAM, is to be brought forward this evening, for the purpose, as I understand, of introducing Mr. Hutton, from the theatres of New-York and Philadelphia.—Report speaks highly in praise of this gentleman...while the celebrity of the play is too well founded to admit of argumentation. The mere circumstance of its having been performed upwards of fifty nights successively in London, is, we think, conclusive proof of its merit. Of the manner in which it will be here performed, we can only form an opinion from the representation of the last evening—and from the ability then displayed, we venture to predict that no spectator will leave the house dissatisfied.

DRAMATICUS.

Baltimore, Dec. 10.

On Monday last his excellency Charles Ridgely, of Hampton, was re-elected governor of the state of Maryland for the ensuing year. Yesterday Daniel Murray, John E. Howard, jr. Henry A. Callis, John Stoops and Arnold E. Jones, esqrs. were elected the council to the governor.

[Fed. Gazette.

This morning the gaoler, on visiting the cell in which John Lamarde was confined, discovered that the wretched man had put a period to his own existence.—He had torn his shirt into pieces—these he twisted together and formed a rope, with which he hung himself to a spike nail he had contrived to drive into the wall, thus executing on himself that sentence of the law, which, but two days before, had been pronounced in such an impressive manner. In his cell was found a paper on which he had written a few lines with a pencil, of which the following is an exact copy. [ibid.

*He probably meant to write 'honneur,' but we have given the copy literally.

The following translation has been obligingly furnished to the editor by a friend:

FROM AMELIA ISLAND.

Intelligence from that place as late as Monday last has reached this city, by the Patriot privateer Republicano, captain Smith, which put into the river yesterday in distress. Aury, on learning that the United States had determined to break up his buccaneering establishment and occupy the island, showed a considerable degree of perturbation. He embargoed the privateers in the harbor, under the plea of their presence being necessary for its security in the absence of himself and his black heroes, who are to make a desperate attack on the impregnable walls of St. Augustine, where the goddess of victory is to decorate their jetty brows with unfading wreaths of laurel, and the goddess of plunder to fill their knapsacks with refulgent gold! but his real intention was believed to be to defend his piratical nest against our troops. The madness of such a resolution was too ostensible to receive the countenance of his followers; and, in consequence, the embargo was removed on the 29th or 30th ultimo. On the 1st inst. he was making preparations for the embarkation of his troops and the total evacuation of the island. This was done, however, under pretence of proceeding against St. Augustine. He said, he was, in a few days, to be joined by two or three hundred troops from the north and six or seven hundred Floridians, who would render the success of his expedition certain.

Armed vessels from different American ports were arriving daily, for the purpose of obtaining commissions—three from Baltimore on last Saturday—in all they amounted to fourteen. On the same day, it is reported, a prize schooner, with 120 Negroes, was taken possession of, while attempting to run into Fernandina, by the United States' brig Saranac. [ibid.

PLEASING INTELLIGENCE.

The sloop Ocean, Captain Middleton, which arrived here yesterday, from Alexandria, landed at 8 o'clock, in the morning, at Old Point Comfort, Colonel Armistead, Majors Roberdeau and Kearney of the United States' Engineers, and Lt. Blaney, aid to General Swift. These gentlemen, it will be recollected, are members of the Board recently announced, as having been appointed by the President of the United States to examine and report to the Executive the defensible points of Hampton Roads & the Chesapeake Bay. Gen. Swift, we learn, will arrive here in the steam boat, on Friday next, from Baltimore, and with Captain Elliott, who is now on the spot, will proceed immediately on the execution of their important trust. The able hands to which these duties have been confided, evince a determination on the part of the Executive, to lose no time in giving to this section of country, perfect security from the assaults of any foreign enemy, with which the United States may hereafter be at war. THE CAUSE OF THE JEWS.

A letter received in this town, from Mrs. Hannah Moore, the celebrated English authoress, dated Sept. 3, states, that the "Hebrew New Testament is finished; and so great is the demand for it, that a second edition is printing. Mr. Way, a gentleman of immense fortune and high character, who has devoted himself to the Jewish cause, is now gone to Petersburg with two German Jews, his own converts; one of whom was ordained priest the day before they came to take leave of us. The sultan of Tartary (a christian convert) is also one of the party. They preach to the Jews in the cities they pass through." (Boston Rec.

SIR—In reading the journal de Paris, of the 26th current, I have seen with pain that the Editor of that paper, in an article respecting the colony of Martinique, makes use of the word Negro, in speaking of black men.

This term, synonimous with slave, and which is used no longer in any other sense in the dictionary of the Academy, has become very improper to designate men by, who have been declared free by European nations.

A great number of blacks have served with honor in the French Armies; some others are established in France as Merchants, or as landed proprietors; the men possess hearts truly French, notwithstanding the color of the skin.

Trusting to your impartiality I request you will give this communication publicity.—I have the honor to be, etc. etc.

A very singular imposture has been recently practised in the state of N. Hampshire, by some swindler, who palmed himself upon the public, and attempted to raise contributions, as an agent of the Deaf and Dumb Asylum, at Hartford, in the state of Connecticut; in consequence of which, the overseers of that institution have found it necessary to publish the following notice—

As several impostors have lately appeared, in different parts of the U. States, some pretending that they were Deaf and Dumb, and others, that they were agents from the Connecticut Asylum, for the purpose of soliciting contributions, the public are hereby cautioned against future imposition. A recent instance of this kind, occurred at Portsmouth, N. Hampshire, where a person assumed the name of a brother of Mr. THOMAS H. GALLAUDET, who is the Principal of our institution, calling himself Edward Gallaudet, and openly requested pecuniary aid, in behalf, and in consequence, of authority derived from the officers of said institution. There is at present no agent abroad, and should there be any in future, he will be specially authorised, and furnished with ample credentials from the directors of the institution. In order to prevent impositions of this kind in future the printers who are friends to the Asylum, throughout the country, are requested to insert this caution in their papers.

Hartford, Nov. 28, 1817.

It is very certain there is no possibility of fixing limits to the operations of human villany. That any wretch could be found who could have the hardihood to assume the garb of this interesting & humane institution, and practice such despicable robbery, merely for the sake of plundering the unsuspicious through the medium of their sympathy and charity for so unfortunate a class of our fellow beings, and in that vile mode injure and discredit an establishment founded and supported for their benefit, affords us a new and lamentable specimen of depravity. At the same time, it would be very extraordinary, if any person, even of the most kind and compassionate character, would suffer himself to be cheated and robbed by any person, claiming to be in the employment of a well known incorporated body, legally authorised and qualified to act in a known and usual manner, without first demanding the evidence of his authority. It is much to be desired that this impostor may be discovered and brought to the punishment which his conduct so richly deserves.

Trustee's Sale.

UNDER the authority, and by virtue of a decree of the honorable the High Court of Chancery of the State of Maryland, the subscriber will offer at public sale, on the premises, on Saturday the 20th day of December, inst. at 12 M. if fair, if not, the next fair lawful day, at the same hour, all the Land of the late Richard Henderson, deceased, situate in Prince George's County, Md. and adjoining or near the town of Bladensburg, containing between 6 and 700 acres, of which a survey and plat will be made previous to the sale, and then exhibited.

These lands are beautifully situated, and in an excellent neighborhood; one third part, or nearly so, is in wood, and about 50 acres of bottom or meadow, which, with some improvement, is capable of producing large crops of timothy, a certain and never failing market for which is found in the City of Washington, about 4 miles distant. This property, lying below Bladensburg, on the Eastern Branch, has the advantage of water conveyance for its produce to the City, Georgetown or Alexandria at a small expence.

Intending purchasers it is supposed will, by themselves or agents, examine the Lands and determine for themselves as to the quality and local advantages thereof, and therefore a more particular description is deemed unnecessary. Mr. Wilson, residing on the premises, will shew them.

The conditions of sale are, that the purchaser shall give bond with security to the Trustee, to be approved by him, for paying one 3d of the purchase money with interest within 12 months, one other 3d with interest within 18 months, and the residue with interest within 2 years from the day of sale—and upon the sale being ratified by the Chancellor, and on receipt of the purchase money, a conveyance shall be made in terms of the said decree.

Contiguity to market is also among its advantages; it being within less than a mile of Mr. Jonathan Janney's mill, where the Alexandria price may be had for grain. Persons wishing to purchase will apply to the subscriber, residing at Cedar Grove, ten miles below Alexandria, and one below Janney's mill.

Sully for Sale.

THIS estate, situated in the county of Fairfax, twenty two miles from Alexandria, and the same distance from Georgetown, contains about seven hundred and fifty acres. Little River Turnpike passes through it half a mile from the dwelling house. The situation is handsome, and remarkably healthy; the water is good and abundant. The soil which was originally excellent, has for some years past had the advantage of improving husbandry, Plaister of Paris acting with powerful and immediate effect on all grasses and grains. The fields present a good surface for cultivation, and those, now untilled, are covered with red clover. The orchards are very large and thrifty; the collection of table fruit is choice and various. The mansion is spacious and well constructed: the outhouses are conveniently situated, and the whole have been lately thoroughly repaired and painted. The farm houses, which are all nearly new, are expensive and excellent in their kind.

For a gentleman of leisure this would be a delightful residence; and a profitable estate for an active farmer. The title is indisputable, and perfectly unincumbered.

A number of well taught orderly young men, with good stocks and farming utensils of all kinds, and the crops of the present year, if desired, will be at the command of the purchaser.

Application may be made to the subscriber, living on the premises, next the post-office at Pleasant Valley, in Fairfax.

His cloathing is not recollected, but as he received his wages before he started it is probable he has furnished himself with a new suit. BENJ. T. FENDALL.

Ned is well made, high forehead and large flat nose: had on when he went away a grey coat and pantaloons, but as he was well provided with cloathing of various kinds, it is probable he may have changed his dress. It is believed he went off with his wife, who it appears left Richmond at the same time: she is very black, and, I believe, somewhat pitted with the small pox, talks a great deal, of short stature, and rather thick made. Ned is very artful, and may probably attempt to pass for a free man; he has a down look when spoken to. James Kennedy & Son,

BOOKSELLERS,
KING-STREET, ALEXANDRIA,

RESPECTFULLY inform the public that they have just received from Lee's Medicine Store, No. 46, Maiden lane, New-York, a fresh supply of the following valuable MEDICINES:

Hamilton's Worm-destroying Lozenges,

Which have within sixteen years past cured an immense number of persons of both sexes of every age and in every situation, of various dangerous complaints arising from WORMS, and from obstructions or foulness in the stomach and bowels.

This medicine bears no analogy whatever to others of similar titles so commonly complained of as operating with violence; on the contrary a particular excellence of this remedy is its being suited to every age and constitution. It contains nothing but what is perfectly innocent & is so mild in its operation that it cannot injure the most delicate pregnant lady or the tenderest infant of a week old should no worms exist in the body; but will without pain or griping cleanse the stomach and bowels of whatever is foul or offensive, and thereby prevent the production of worms and many fatal disorders. The lozenges are particularly efficacious in carrying off all gross humours and eruptions, feverish and bilious complaints, and are the safest and mildest purgative that can be used on any occasion.

Description of Worms, and the symptoms by which they are known.

Worms which infest the human body are chiefly of four kinds viz.—The Teres or large round worm; the Ascarides or small maw-worm; the Cucurbitine or short flat white worm; and lastly, the Tænia or tape-worm, so called from its resemblance to tape. This is often many yards long and is full of joints. It is most hurtful and most difficult to remove.

Among the symptoms attending worms are—disagreeable breath, especially in the morning; bad and corrupted gums; itching in the nose, and about the seat; convulsions, epileptic fits, and sometimes privation of speech; starting and grinding of the teeth in sleep; irregular appetite, sometimes loathing food and sometimes voracious; purging with slimy and fœtid stools; vomiting; large and hard belly; pains and sickness at the stomach; pains in the head and thighs and lowness of spirits; slow fever with small and irregular pulse; a dry cough; excessive thirst; sometimes pale and unhealthy countenance, and sometimes the face bloated and flushed.

Persons afflicted with any of the above symptoms should have immediate recourse to Hamilton's Worm Destroying Lozenges, which have been constantly attended with success in all complaints similar to those above described.

A dose of this medicine given occasionally during the warm season, will effectually prevent "the vomiting and purging of children"—a dreadful disorder, which annually destroys thousands of the infant part of our citizens. It is likewise the mildest and most certain remedy known, and has restored to health and strength a great number when in an advanced stege of this fatal complaint. Particular and plain instructions are given for every part of the necessary treatment in such cases.

Children generally take this medicine with eagerness; having a pleasing appearance, and an agreeable taste.

The Restorative Powder for the Teeth and Gums.

For the prevention and cure of BILIOUS AND MALIGNANT FEVERS is recommended

RAIN's ANTI-BILIOUS PILLS

THIS Medicine has been attended with a degree of success highly grateful to the inventor's feelings in several parts of the West Indies and in the Southern and Middle States, &c.

The testimony of a number of person can be adduced, who have reason to believe that a timely use of this salutary remedy has, under Providence, preserved their lives when in the most alarming circumstances.

Facts of this conclusive nature speak more in favour of a medicine than columns of pompous eulogy founded on mere assertion.

It is not indeed presumptuously proposed as an infallible cure, but the inventor has every possible reason that can result from extensive experience for believing that a dose of these Pills taken once in every two weeks during the prevalence of our bilious fevers, will prove an infallible preventive; and further, that in the earlier stages of those diseases their use will very generally succeed in restoring health, and frequently in cases esteemed desperate and beyond the power of common remedies.

The operation of these pills is perfectly mild, so as to be used with safety by persons in every situation and of every age.

They are excellently adapted to carry off superfluous bile and prevent its morbid secretions—to restore and amend the appetite—to produce a free perspiration and thereby prevent colds which are often of fatal consequences. A dose never fails to remove a cold if taken on its first appearance: they are celebrated for removing habitual costiveness—sickness at the stomach and severe head-ache—and ought to be taken by all persons on a change of climate.

They have been found remarkably efficatious in preventing and curing disorders attendant on long voyages, and should be procured and carefully preserved for use by every seaman.

The Elixir is perfectly agreeable, and the dose so small that no difficulty arises in taking it.
